Social Work with the Aged and Their Families presents the functional-age model (FAM) of intergenerational treatment, an integrative theoretical framework for social workers practicing with older adults and their families. In keeping with the Council on Social Work Education's curriculum mandate of 2015, social workers are now encouraged to use human behavior theories in working with their geriatric clients. This fourth edition incorporates much-needed additional techniques to address the mental health assessments of the elderly.

FAM addresses the assessment of older adults' biological, psychological, socio-cultural, and spiritual age. It also incorporates an evaluation of the family system, family roles, and family development in this assessment. Interventions at the individual, family, group, and community levels are discussed.

This volume, augmented with recent concepts related to successful aging, spirituality, and resiliency, presents the major converging conceptual trends that constitute a model for twenty-first century social work practice in the field of aging. It is an indispensable text for those training in social work practice with the elderly, or those currently in practice.

As a college student exactly feel bored to help reading. If their teacher inquired them to go to the library or make summary for some guide, they are complained. Just tiny students that has reading's spirit or real their interest. They just do what the teacher want, like asked to the library. They go to generally there but nothing reading significantly. Any students feel that reading is not important, boring in addition to can't see colorful photographs on there. Yeah, it is to become complicated. Book is very important to suit your needs. As we know that on this era, many ways to get whatever we wish. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. So , this Social Work with the Aged and Their Families can make you truly feel more interested to read.
