Don't get caught wearing red (Stanford's color) the week of the Big Game, or you might get pointed out on campus, told by roaming Rally Committee members and athletes to "take off that red," and hassled until you do.

It's good to know things like this before you have to learn the hard way...and College Prowler can help you out with insider tips like this one! The College Prowler guidebook to UC Berkeley lets you in on everything the students think you need to know about the school...not the least of which is what they think of the academics:

"Berkeley is consistently ranked as the number one public University in the United States for several reasons, but perhaps the most dominant one is its challenging academic atmosphere. The intense learning environment in some classes can lead to a high level of anxiety and distrust among students. The massive number of classes and majors may leave students a bit confused, but these cases are exceptions, not the rule."
